

Shohrukh Yormatov

born in a little Central Asian country - Tajikistan. Now I am a masters' program student at the High School of Economics in Saint-Petersburg. My academic path and personal impact to world development through conducting research about the international trade sector.