Emmanuel Ejiofor (NG)

Emmanuel Ejiofor is a final year student at the University of Nigeria studying towards a bachelor's degree in mass communication. He serves as the editor-in-chief of „The Record, UNN,“ the university's online newspaper. He has over a year of experience in journalism, having worked as an editor in newspaper and magazine publications operated by students.

Emmanuel is interested in data journalism and research. He owns a personal blog, Ejr Writings, where he shares his thoughts on the tiniest of his experiences. He is constantly seeking for opportunities to develop his professional career, that will help him tell the hard stories that drive positive changes around the globe.
