

Justin De Jesus Sucgang (PH)

Justin De Jesus Sucgang, a stubborn advocate of legal education reform even before he enrolled in law school, is an educator, lawyer, and student --- in that order. He established the Center for Legal Education Advancement and Reform, which aims to be the foremost think tank, providing action research to improve the conduct of legal education and the profession. He is presently a candidate for the Doctor of Juridical Science at Fordham University School of Law.
