

Ekoja Akor Okewu (NG)

Ekoja Akor Okewu is a young innovative Nigerian employing the skills of research, critical thinking, and creative writing to produce literary works with the potential of stimulating transformational change. Due to his quest to contribute towards the actualization of an equitable world for disadvantaged members of the global community, he currently serves as an Ambassador for Christ, Mathematics tutor, and creative writing instructor at Divine International Academy, UBE Central public school and NKST orphanage Mkar. Recently, he authored a book titled „Africa’s Exploitation“ , which tries to educate the public about the ills of the Transatlantic slave trade and other forms of Colonial exploitation with the aim of preventing all forms of future exploitation. Some of his works can be found @ <https://www.traveldailylife.com/contributors/accessekoja>. He is open for collaborative work and can be contacted via email at Ekojasolomon@gmail.com