

Aaron Sanga (TZ)

Aaron Sanga is a recent graduate from Mzumbe University, where he earned a Bachelor's degree in Industrial Engineering and Management. Currently, he works as a content writer, sharing insights on platforms such as LinkedIn and Medium. Aaron has actively participated in several prestigious essay and short stories competitions including Goi Peace Foundation Essay Competition, Jamii Forums Stories of Change, 10th Continental Essay Competition, SADC Literary Prize and the Commonwealth Short Stories Competition.

Aaron aspires to become a professor in Management Science and Engineering and is considering joining graduate school soon. Inspired by thought leaders like Peter Drucker, he frequently delves into Drucker's work, particularly enjoying The Effective Executive. Additionally, Aaron has a strong interest in entrepreneurship and envisions himself embarking on that path in the future.