

Lucas Soares (BR)

My name is Lucas, and I am a civil engineering student at the Federal Institute of Science and Technology of Goiás. I have a strong interest in STEM subjects and enjoy using this knowledge to solve problems and understand how things work. At the same time, I am passionate about literature, history, and politics, and I love learning about the culture and history of other countries. In addition to Portuguese, I speak some German and Spanish and am currently learning Italian.
